More than 80% of all electronics EcoPhones receives are reusable and are therefore tested, reconditioned and sold in the United States. The revenues generated from the resale of used consumer electronics help pay for our warehouse rent, our repair technicians and our ability to pay schools, churches and communities for an ever increasing number and variety of used and eventually hazardous consumer electronics.

The remaining 20% is de-manufactured and disposed of according to Federal and State EPA guidelines. See www.EcoPhones.com for more information.
